THE WASHERWOMAN'S SONG.

In a rather quiet spot,
In the ends and in the soap,
Worked a woman full of hope;
Working, singing, all alone,
In a sort of undertone:
"With the Saviour for a friend,
He will keep her to the end."

Sometimes happening along,
I had heard the semi-song,
And I often used to smile,
More in sympathy than glee;
But I never said a word
In regard to what I heard,
As she sang about her friend,
Who would keep her to the end.

Not in sorrow, nor in glee,
Working all day long was she,
As her children, three or four,
Played around her on the floor;
But in monotonous song
She was humming all day long:
"With the Saviour for a friend,
He will keep her to the end."

It's a song I do not sing,
For I scarce believe a thing
Of the stories that are told
Of the miracles of old;
But I know that her belief
Is the antidote of grief,
And will always be a friend
That will keep her to the end.

Just a trifle lonesome she,
Just as poor as poor could be;
But her spirits always rose,
Like the bubbles in the soap,
And, though widowed and alone,
Cheered her with the monotone,
Of a Saviour and a friend
Who would keep her to the end.

I have seen her rub and scrub,
On the washboard in the tub,
While the baby sopped in suds,
Rolled and tumbled in the duds;
Or was paddling in the pools,
With old scissors stuck in spoons;
She still humming her friend
Who would keep her to the end.

Human hopes and human needs
Have their root in human needs;
And I should not wish to strip
From that washerwoman's lip
Any song that she can sing,
Any hope that song can bring;
For the woman has a friend
Who will keep her to the end.

THE WEDDING OF MISS WARE AND MR. TITUS.

Pensacola furnished another very charming June bride yesterday to the already brilliant list of pretty local girls, when Miss Nellie Keller Ware and Mr. Herbert Titus were married last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Ware, who are aunt and uncle of the pretty young bride.

The Rev. Mr. Julian S. Shibley spoke the words which joined the lives of these two young people for all time, the beautifully decorated home with its exquisite floral effects in pink and white roses, carnations, oleanders and greenery being a fit setting for the interesting event.

The bride, who was given away by her uncle, Mr. W. S. Ware, wore an elegant gown of heavy white satin trimmed in pearl passementerie and real lace.

Her lace veil was caught with orange blossoms and she carried Bride's roses.

Miss Carol Simmons was maid of honor and wore a dainty pale green silk gown, hand embroidered. She carried Bride's roses.

Little Audrey Keller was the pretty little flower girl, who, dressed all in her dainty white scattered rose petals before the bride.

Mr. J. R. Keller was best man, Prof. Seel and members of his orchestra playing the wedding music.

An informal reception took place after the ceremony, the happy young couple being extended heartiest congratulations. Many lovely wedding gifts were received, which were displayed in the flower-laden drawing room.

Mr. and Mrs. Titus left last night for their future home in Nyack, New York, a beautiful town located on the picturesque Hudson River, Mrs. Titus going away dressed being of Nile green serge, hand embroidered, her hat, shoes and accessories being in corresponding hues.

Mr. Titus is a prominent young New Yorker, and while he is charged with taking away one of Pensacola's sweetest young women, he has nevertheless the congratulations of everyone.

W. C. T. U. MET LAST NIGHT.

The W. C. T. U. met yesterday at the First Presbyterian church. A number of valuable talks were given by the ladies, the meeting being considered one of the most interesting of the past few weeks.

MUSICAL WAS WELL ATTENDED.

A large number of Pensacola's best church quartets, musical groups and soloists, met yesterday at the First M. E. church last night, when the choir gave the following special program, which was rendered most capably:

No. 1. Selection by the First M. E. church quartet.
No. 2. Vocal Solo, Miss Cawthon.
No. 3. Vocal Duet, Miss Hutchinson and Miss Childerson.
No. 4. Recitation, Mrs. Clyde Roberts.
No. 5. Selection by the Harmony Male Quartette.

HER PHYSICIAN APPROVES

Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Sabatius, Maine.—"You told me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills before child-birth, and we are all surprised to see how much good it did. My physician said 'Without doubt it was the Compound that helped you.' I thank you for your kindness in advising me and give you full permission to use my name in your testimonials."—Mrs. H. W. MITCHELL, Box 3, Sabatius, Me.

Another Woman Helped.
Graniteville, Vt.—"I was passing through the Change of Life and suffering from nervousness and other annoying symptoms. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored my health and strength, and proved worth mountains of gold to me. For the sake of other suffering women I am willing you should publish my letter."—Mrs. CHARLES BARCLAY, R.F.D., Graniteville, Vt.

Women who are passing through this critical period or who are suffering from any of those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of the fact that for thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills. In almost every community you will find women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

In Bad Health

"I must speak a good word for Cardui," writes Mrs. Viola Baker, of Floral, Ark.

"About a month ago," she continues, "I was in very bad health. I was so weak and nervous that I was not able to do my housework."

"My husband bought me one bottle of Cardui. I took it according to directions, and now I am in good health. 'Cardui is a fine medicine for weak women.'"

This is only one opinion out of many, but so many women are of the same opinion, judging from similar letters which they write, that there must be some truth in it. Won't you try Cardui and see?

It may be just the tonic you need, for that worn, tired-out, run-down feeling.

Cardui is purely vegetable. It contains no minerals to settle in your bones and joints. It acts gently, so it can't do you any harm, and it is nearly sure to do you good.

For sick women, who suffer from womanly pains, such as headache, backache, sideache, etc., and for weak women, who are nervous, worn-out, tired, irritable and lack the energy to look after their work, Cardui is the same kind helping hand that helps them over the rough places and makes them feel "better." Try it.

MR. DUDLEY BARROW WAS BEST MAN.

Mr. Dudley Barrow returned last night from Meridian, Miss., where he served as best man, being a cousin of the groom, at the Terry-Yarborough wedding, which was a social event of the season there. The bride and groom will be at home with Mr. and Mrs. Leon P. Smith, at No. 1127 North Thirty-first street, Birmingham.

The following account of the marriage appearing in yesterday's issue of the Meridian Dispatch:

Yesterday's wealth of heaven's blue skies and golden sunshine offered its benediction to the sweet home wedding that had as its bride one of our city's sweetest and loveliest young women, Miss Madie Terry.

Just after the noon hour in the presence of the two families of the contracting parties and quite a number of intimate friends, Miss Madie Terry, the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Terry of Twenty-third avenue, and Mr. Samuel Knox Yarborough, of Birmingham, were united in marriage. Rev. T. J. Shipman, of the First Baptist church, of which the bride is a much beloved member, officiating.

The home was lovely in its decorations of palms, ferns, festooning of smilax, and beautiful Hydrangea, these being profusely used everywhere. The stairway from which the bride party descended was attractive in its interlacing of trailing green vines. In the parlor when the ceremony was performed ferns and Hydranuel banked the mantle and just opposite, huge rubber plants and palms in their wealth of green formed the sacred altar. Miss Maylin McMorris sang McKoven's "I Love Thee So." Mrs. W. W. Reynolds accompanying her. The richness of the singer's voice, with its melody was most appealing. Then to the strains of Mendelssohn's march, played by brough, of Birmingham, were united in marriage. Rev. T. J. Shipman, of the First Baptist church, of which the bride is a much beloved member, officiating.
